Re: Perteet adds depth to ports, ferries, and transit markets

Everett, Wash: October 19, 2022 – Perteet Inc.

Perteet welcomes Paul Riemann, PE, as their new infrastructure director. Based out of Perteet’s Seattle office, Paul will lead Perteet’s ferry, port, and transit markets. Paul has over 32 years of experience supporting public sector clients, including spending the last seven years working for Sound Transit. As Sound Transit’s engineering manager for storm drainage and utilities, he programmatically managed the associated design elements for the agency’s $55 billion system expansion program, including large light rail projects such as Lynnwood Link Extension, East Link Extension, and Federal Way Link Extension. Paul has successfully delivered dozens of planning and engineering projects for local maritime, port, and utility agencies.

“Paul’s extensive experience will allow us to strengthen our expertise in maritime and transit markets,” said Crystal Donner, Perteet’s President. “With current infrastructure needs and funding timelines, our clients will need the type of deep understanding and technical expertise Paul brings to his projects. The timing is just right for us to grow these markets while helping our clients deliver critically needed infrastructure.”
